

revelling crooks_from heaven into hell ww 204 klezmer_country_balkan_folk the revelling crooks fuse roots music from western and eastern europe with the energy of punk, ska and rock'n roll. sung in a cosmopolitan mix of english, russian, jewish and german, these songs cover deep emotions from true love to deepest sadness.

accordion, banjo, mandolin and violin invoke a timeless charm, with their infectious melodies of different origins. guitar, bass and drums produce ecstatic rhythms so that it's quite impossible to stay seated. Wherever the band appears - expect an energetic party night that won't stop until dawn.
